The break followed an investigation into reports of cruel treatment of the inmates.

"We have been having trouble down here all week," said the warden.

Militia Being Shipped, But Regular Army Being Held Back

ROME, Feb. 18.—The possibility Italy will send more Fascist militia, or perhaps regular army troops to Italian Somaliland to reinforce the small Italian forces there and smash German troops who are holding out in a region of border disputes with Ethiopia, was seen last night in a resolution adopted by the Fascist grand council.

Italy has 10,000 men of Fascist militia, totaling 3,100 men are already in a week. It was made known over the radio that the 10,000 troops already were on the Mediterranean coast. Port Said. Three other battalions, totaling 2,000 are ready to sail but the force of 1,000 men of the regular army troops mobilized last week for the campaign in Somaliland in Italy.

ITALY POURS TROOP LINES INTO AFRICA

SAINT LUCIA, Feb. 18.—After hearing an exposition of the situation by Premier Benito Mussolini, the Fascist grand council voted to send its "cordial salute" to the detachments which have left and to those which have not yet done so.

But the fact Fascist militia had been dispatched instead of the regular army, did not affect the situation alarming at present, and is considered a diplomatic and military rather than a political dispute and of the outbreaks along the frontier could not be found.

DOES ROME WANT A FRONT?

On the other hand, in a speech on the Ethiopian controversy last night in an address to the grand council, Mussolini said he had given a definite reference to a "front." He urged all mobilized Italians to go to the front and not to let the council 17,000 men had volunteered for service in Africa.

den, who yesterday exposed himself to gunfire of the prisoners.

They were not able to hold but we could not guard against gun being smuggled in from the outside.

For a time the plot expanded abruptly to its deadly completion.

APPEAL SILENT

The two prisoners appeared suddenly at the side of a sturdy prisoner, serving as inside turnkey, a pistol against his skull.

The plot expanded abruptly to its deadly completion.

"Give us the keys," they hissed.

With cold precision the men moved in, taking up all the available keys and day sergeant Walter Ford, locking them in a cell.

"Come on," they said. "A mob of young hoodlums rallied to the cry, rushed headlong up the stairs to visitors' room.

20 VISITORS THROWN OUT

"There were about 20 visitors, mostly women and children, said Leslie Long, a convict who was serving 15 years for mail and state-in-law.

They were all sent outside to freedom. They herded us out there to keep the guards from shooting at them.

"I didn't know why I broke, I went over and gave up."

As the condemned mob passed through the corridor down the double-barred front door and freedom, one of them snatched a case from the floor and dashed a guard's wall rock.

An instant later, the gun blazed. The bullet rattled in the gun, said Uncle Peter, a veteran tower guard.

BEHIND HOSAGES

The condemned convicts behind forward warmly toward their helpers.

A female figure raced into the yard from the wardens' room, just outside the walls. It was Wardens' Wives. They had dutifully come in to sign the wall and men in entry-boxes on wall.

The fire, without effect, their marksmanship impeded by the hapless captives.

But an instant later from a flask, came theullen bullen of Deputy Wardens M. E. Gallion, an automatic pistol.

Eight boys lurched and stumbled as his slug ripped into their flesh. Now the Guards' Wives were horrified. A tenth was taken nearby by a civilian, Vernon Tallant, who had been a guard.

He was bound and was despatched by the guards.

The condemned, the more determined prisoners swarmed into parkades or stopped drivers of cars to get to the cars in which the reformatory factor. Three of them were recaptured late by possemen at Sayre.

Goldsmith, a manufacturer, argued that the plaintiff's opinion was beyond comprehension to him and declared it "makes a private judgment."

"I'm not in a position to react," he said.

"If the B. & O. has won then we have to pay up. If the court says he has any right to protect himself from money manipulation and currency debasement by the government."

THE EASTERN BREAK-UP

Moscow reports officially that Japanese troops have invaded Mongolia, which is likely enough. But nowhere in the despatch is it mentioned that Mongolia happens to be Chinese territory. This is a circumstance to which neither Tokyo nor Moscow attach much importance.

China is only the helpless victim of a quibble between its powerful neighbors as to which of them shall get its territory, or the largest slice of it. Russia is pursuing the policy of "Russia's" policy which the whole
area of northern and western China,
while Japan just takes what it wants.

In both cases the end is the same so far as China is concerned—dismemberment.
Self-determination and the other idealistic principles discussed at Versailles mean little beyond the word. In that part of the world the only title a nation has is its property, the ability to defend it.

To western people this does not sound pleasant, after "the war to end war" and the decimating predators, the butchers and plunderers of the world. The new war has brought the Orient, and whatever else it may mean, it means the destruction of China. If the League of Nations and western peoples do not approve, that is just too bad. The partition of the ancient empire is not being carried out with any fine regard to Occidental susceptibilities.

NO REMARKS FROM COUNCIL

No action yet on the part of the city council to investigate the Damon and Pythias relationship that seems to exist between the Edmonton sinking fund board and the bond-brokers in opposing the attempt to force a downward
revision of the interest rates.

"Souls with but a single thought and hearts that beat as one," expresses the attitude of the board and the brokers toward each other in regard to Vancouver's attempt to stop the confiscation of their profits and to force a downward
revision of the interest rates.

Edmonton—In the city the mood is pulled tension in the streets, sweepers are stalled and must be dug out by gangs of men. Hardly a railway wheel is turning from one end of North Scotia to the other.

Calgary—Mr. Davidson, one of the Calgary delegates, wired from Ottawa that it is "practically admitted" Edmonton will be the provincial capital of the new province.

Washington—President Roosevelt is in a mess, having to call in the C.N.R. to help him settle the customs offices of the Republic of Santa Domingo, and rewrites the Monroe doctrine as a warning to European powers to not interfere in that island.

If Vancouver is thwarted in the effort to secure a downward revision of rates—with the able assistance of the Edmonton sinking fund board—the chance of Edmonton's being brought down to a minimum is very slight.

Edmonton—City council and bond-brokers are as a mass of bringing down the tax rate might not unreasonably interest itself in the activity of the Edmonton sinking fund board to prevent any such thing being accomplished. The present council evidently has no desire to be the butt of the community from criticism, and therefore preferred to itself in deciding whether Edmonton taxpayers are to lose their homes or save them.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN
Hon. J. Lovell, who comes three times which the Government of Alberta might take in order to cut down the interest charges on the provincial debt.

1. Refund outstanding issues of bonds as they mature, at lower rates of interest. Which means that the present excess of interest interest until the outstanding issues mature ten years or so hence. There is no refunding of any present benefit to anybody involved in that process. It is simply routine "sound money" procedure.

2. Secure from the Dominion funds sufficient to enable the province to call in all bonds at once and offer the holders the choice of accepting cash in full or new bonds bearing a lower rate.

3. Stop paying interest, and let events take their course under conditions of default.

The weak spot in Mr. Lovell's deliverance on the subject is that up to date the Government has done neither the one thing nor the other, in fact has done nothing. The only thing we have attempted to do either is to hold on to the bonds to maturity, but it has been a long time since we have attempted to pay maturing bonds at lower rates of interest, simply as routine procedure. But it has neither stopped the refunding scheme nor stop paying interest, nor has it done
the holders to go to the courts and test the claims.

Not to the extent of one cent has the burden of the Alberta taxpayer been reduced by any known action on the part of the Government to the date of Mr. Lovell's speech. The times are a four years behind-hand on what the Government might have done to force interest rates down as has no practical bearing whatever on relief for the taxpayer or restoration of provincial solvency.

"EAR-MARKING" THE EGG MONEY

Questioned in parliament, Hon. Robert Weir, minister of agriculture, explained that Dominion money is not being spent to "put over" the egg and poultry marketing scheme in the provinces.

The sum of $10,000 had been supplied for expenditure in Manitoba, $10,000 to be spent in Saskatchewan, and $20,000 to be expended in Alberta, but merely to develop and explain the scheme to farmers and poultrymen, and to correct misrepresentations, not to propagandize
the farmers and poultrymen into voting for the proposal.

The Minister should tune in at any convenient time of the day or evening and listen to the oratory that is filling the western air with two or three kinds of language in exposition of the various benefits to come to the producers from the various price plans, or plans of the ministers of agriculture, that has invaded the rural sections to expound the advantages of non-competitive marketing.

If, as he says, a condition of these grants will be opposed, the scheme should have a much opportunity in presenting their side of the case, they do not for some reason seem to be doing it.

From the outside, and with all deference to the Minister, the proceedings take on the appearance of being the most extensive and expensive propaganda effort ever staged in the part of the country under official auspices. The consumer, who is of course only interested in getting the best price for his eggs, will be assured that the price of eggs will have to go up to a balloon if the "tub" is to be made stand on its own bottom, and the compulsory pool repay the expense of getting itself launched.

Forty Years Ago

From the Files of The Edmonton Bulletin

At a meeting of the South Edmonton Cemetery Co. held on Saturday a committee was appointed to look into the question of purchasing the land and plant of the Edmonton Crematory Co.

The grain market is somewhat peculiar at present. There is a large amount of grain on hand, but the price is not high. Wheat is very little brought in. Wheat is up to 60 cents at the mill and oats to 30 cents for the best.

D. Ross is buying and packing pork extensively this winter. Mr. Ross is a professor at curing pork and can handle any quantity. The cure is very good, the price is reasonable and certain right here is as neat a way of bearing the freight rates on grain as can be devised.

The business of reducing the mounted police has been entirely entered upon, but upon what principle the reduction is to be made is not known.

China is only the helpless victim of a
quibble between its powerful neighbors as to
which of them shall get its territory, or the largest slice of it. Russia is pursuing the
policy of "Russia's" policy which the whole
area of northern and western China,

No Use Crying Over Spilt Wheat

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

Commencing in Eastern papers, and spreading to Western papers, it is an outcry that the Federal government is tied up with the wheat crop and must make a change for the sake of price realization, at least thirty per cent above any selling values. It seems to be that the farmers got none of this thirty per cent—because the price of the futures was built up after the farmers had been forced by necessities to let go at lower levels.

The outcry will not do any good. We have all known that since we embarked on a world-wide tariff war in 1930—blasting out our own production instead of letting the market of the world—there has been a drive to sell wheat on world markets at cost of production. The loss has been continuous and certain. It does not matter whether the wheat is held by the Federal government or by individuals, the loss is a national loss and in the final analysis has to be paid by taxation of every Canadian.

The remedy is not by press denunciation and parliamentary oration, but by getting down to common sense and business and trading the wheat to nations who will send us some useful commodity in exchange, enabling us to make a profit on the combined transactions.

Germany is in urgent need of more wheat than Canada holds, and can pay it in high-grade metal and textile products needed in Canada and which can be used to good constructive purpose and on a profitable basis. Other nations, notably China, Japan, France, Portugal, Italy, Spain and Greece, have materials we can handle at a profit—and are ready and willing to discuss commodity exchanges.

The wheat is out. Italy and Russia are exchanging high-grade machinery and metals for crude and refined oils and lumber. Poland is trading coal to Italy for new modern vessels. Germany is trading coal to Brazil for coffee. The Japanese are buying wool from Australia and from South Africa and cotton from India on terms permitting shipment of Japanese goods. Canada alone sits back and lets professional politicians talk about the normal.

A man who is out of work for forty months will read without great interest that after making contributions out of his wages for forty weeks he will be eligible to get into the unemployment insurance scheme. So long as five men are clamoring for every job, unemployment insurance is a dream.

The increased traffic over our railways once we commenced trading wheat for imports would be sufficient to put both railway systems on a paying basis and to give full re-employment to railway labor.

We are current in Canada with the non-constructive political mind; and the B.N.A. Act the political mind controls our financial policies. It is the policy of Canada and the world sold for us. There are not enough wealthy widows to enable our young men to marry themselves into affluence; and there is no work under a condition of strangled commerce.

The way out is so plain and so easy; while the shutting out of commerce requires so much parliamentary eloquence and distortion of facts, that the strangling of commerce is, as the French cynic said, worse than a crime because it is a blunder.

rendered possible is at the service of man an abundance such as was never known before in history. It is not then fair to resent the fact that man is fulfilling the functions of the human slavery of old times. Just as the slaves were stripped of toil from the backs of the free citizens, so should the machine strip the backs of the slaves. We have like the slave of the lamp was to Aladdin.

But we still have to recall our whole economic thinking. We can no longer say, "If a man wants to eat, he must earn it." when the machine takes from him the opportunity of the free gift of the earth. And that source is the National dividend.

To think otherwise is to regard this thrown on the scrap-heap as mere encumbrance of the earth, but only in war as "cannon-fodder." The logical conclusion must be that we are not wise provided through inanimate energy, we are entitled, by virtue of the free gift of the earth, to share in the abundance that made available, at least to the extent of the primary necessities.

If it is the failure to recognize this that has largely been responsible for our present drift,

SUMMERSIDE MOTHER KEEPS STORK BUSY

Mrs. Gillis, of P.E.I., Has Been "Visited" 19 Times
In 18 Years

SUMMERSIDE, P.E.I., Feb. 18.—Without an official "bigger family" contest, Summerside has been visited by the stork 19 times in 18 years, according to records of the late Mrs. Ernest Deligham, who has been keeping a diary of the mother's giving birth to the last 11 years.

Prince Edward Island town isn't doing too badly in the stork business.

Mrs. Dennis Gillis is claiming first place. She has given birth to 19th child—the 19th in 18 years—according to a record kept by the stork for the province.

Have you a list of the children's names? Mrs. Gillis has asked today.

"I kept one for safety," she said. "My mother," replied, "but they came so fast I had to give it up."

Only 10 of the Gillis children are living. Mrs. Ernest Deligham also claims that St. John's has 19 children, though one of the oldest is 13 and the youngest only a few months old. They are all alive, healthy and strong.

The idea that goats can eat anything they want is not true. In fact, they have a digestive fluid in their stomachs called rumen which contains substances like cellulose, which is found in paper, clothing and cardboard. Goats are rubber tires than a man.

dividends on our bonds demoralizes the bondholders. On the contrary, the more suggestion to cut down the cost of living, the more the purchasing power required to keep the product is correct. The cost of living is the cost of living, and the cost of living becomes unsaleable and we have what is called a "glut." The cost of living is the cost of living, and if its products are to find a market, it becomes an economic necessity to cut down the purchasing power destroyed by the mechanization of industry. This is the cost of living, and the cost of living is the cost of living.

"Inhospitable" Not To Invite Young Men In

DEAR MISS DIX—Should a girl ask a boy into her house when he brings her home at 3 or 3 o'clock in the morning from a party? A girl maintains there is no opportunity for conversation at the movies and subsequent dance has and that it is very inhospitable to any good girl to do so. However, say the girls, it is a young man who visits her at that hour of the morning and that it will cause gossip. Also, it is very annoying to those who are not invited to be left out and to bring in different young men almost every night. Which one is right—the girl or her mother? ANNA.

Answer: The mother, absolutely. It is the height of impetuosity for a girl to entertain men visitors at that hour of the morning, and after the neighbors get the word out, what do you think about it? She won't have a shred of character left.

Also, if it is the most magnified solicitude for her to be willing to break up the rest of a family with her dates. Nor are her reasons for keeping this all-night vigil an excuse for such conduct. For instance, if she has been invited to stay at a home and indulged in a talk instead of going to the movies and the dance hall. Furthermore, it is a safe bet that the young man would not regard her failure to draw the line as a lack of hospitality. He would look upon it thankfully as a welcome and a chance to get a little right.

DOROTHY DIX

Certainly the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Dumb Animals ought to do something about this. It is a safe bet that the girl who won't go home till morning, till daylight, date-ape.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—I am married and in love with a man I have known since we were children. The man I was in love with and I quarreled for the mildest time because he wanted to know how my husband came along. He fell in love with me, so I told him to go home. So I married him thinking he would heal my own wounds. But I am miserable. I am in love with the other man. He is a good man. The three of us are thrown much together. I want to play fair, but I don't know what to do. Is there anything I can do? DORA.

Answer: The greatest mistake that men and women ever make is that of failing to seek the aid of a physician for all blighted afflictions. They can't get the man to leave her, and she can't get him to leave her. DORA.

Nothing of the sort happens. Romance is one of the blessings that brightens as they fade, and the mere thought of the past is a source of pleasure. It is the mere alluring and makes the marriage one has rushed into more disastrous.

And it is a cruel thing to a man to be forced to marry a woman who loves him but to whom they can give only tolerance. No man wants to be a scold, and so such a marriage, no matter how hard she is to be.

But one thing is certain. When a woman marries a man she does not expect him to be a scold. She sticks to her contract and not break up his home because she finds it is the best way to live. In thinking that marriage would cure her of love for the other man.

The best remedy is children. Supply him one love with another. If he wants to come back to drive on old love out of your heart, then you must do it. In the children will draw you closer to the man you have married. Make him fall in love with you again, fall in love with his wife, fall in love with his wife again, and so on.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX: If a man has done wrong and paid the penalty and is determined to come back and go straight, it is a good idea to have him come and have him come. Honored and respected citizens esteemed by all who know him.

Many have gone back to the old ways and made good there, but I think it fairer for him to do so in some strange place in some strange town. In this way where they will not be continually reminded of their past and have held them back. DOROTHY DIX.

UNITED FRONT WILL PROTEST R.B. MEASURE

NO REMEDIES IN INSURANCE BILL, CONTEND SPEAKERS

Attacking Premier R. B. Bennett's unemployment insurance bill as being both inadequate and of no help to the class which it should defend, speakers at a protest meeting of the United Front organization in the Empire Theatre Sunday afternoon said workers' unite to stop the bill.

The gathering passed a resolution to the effect that the insurance bill is bad legislation and that the C.C.F., Edmonton Trade and Labor Council and Communist organization are fighting the proposed legislation.

Old Margaret Clegg dealt with the bill's financial aspects and maintained its passing would not alleviate distress among the majority of Albertans. There were so many restrictions preventing large groups of employees from getting benefits.

LAST ATTEMPT BILL

Premier Bennett was clutching at a straw in a last attempt to bring the bill through, "I have hung my banner around his banner," declared Jas. Liskman, official of the Unemployed Men's Council. Mr. Liskman claimed the prime minister was virtually assuming the power of a dictatorship between Hitler and Bennett.

An attempt was being made, he said, to force the bill through by unemployment off the shoulders of the capitalist class and place it on the backs of the workers. Provisions of the insurance bill previously struck from reading bills in the Legislature, even though they had past their money

GRAIN STRIKE REPORT

Mike Nowakowski, of Mundat, outlined events leading up to the calling of several men following the grain strike. In his speech, he said his address the meeting passed a resolution asking the government to release him from the grip of the forces of the fascists, even though they had past their money

AN APOLOGY!

We regret very much not being able to accommodate everyone who came down town to see this, the greatest show in years. From early Saturday 'till late, the theatres were packed to its capacity. However, "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" was playing all week, and from now on we feel confident that the regular "Capitol Service" will prevail.

STRICKLAND, CUNNINGHAM EVEN IN BRIER FINAL

Hogan Trains Hard for Coming Baseball Season

Braves' Heavyweight Catcher Cools Off After Stiff Workout

DATS PANS
by BILL LEWIS

In the East, Deyo's hailing Lester Goldsworthy as the Edmonton boy, as the pinch-hitter of Montreal Les Canadiens . . . Here is what the Eastern writer has to say of him:

"Lester Goldsworthy, the baseball player who has developed into the emergency man with the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, has come from Chicago Black Hawks . . . On January 17 at Montreal, Goldsworthy, who had broken a two-game losing streak with Toronto Maple Leafs and enabled the Canadiens to win, had his first win of the season over the Red Wings.

"The biggest one-night feast of the tall, fleet right-winger was to score a hat-trick against Boston Bruins on Boston ice on Saturday January 26, when Canadiens had to play their last three games in Boston in a league match to win the series.

"Starting out on a recent road trip, Canadiens got ten on the road, but Goldsworthy bobbed up with goals that averted defeat. The Canadiens, who had been beaten, then played a four-all tie with Detroit Red Wings, and Goldsworthy got his first goal in the final period.

"The following night in St. Louis, Goldsworthy got Canadiens a goal which enabled them to gain a comeback tie with the Eagles."

All of which makes it apparent that the Montreal owners made a great mistake in trading the world-champion Black Hawks . . .

"A good deal more for the team as he seems to have found his proper stride with the Canucks."

Bud Abbott, talkative and popular star of the champion Bruins, was interesting to John Ducey from Toronto . . . Abbott has spent the last few days in the city but hopes to be back here for the coming baseball week.

Incidentally, Bud had quite a reception recently in Toronto with the arrival of the new "Duchess of New York Rangers" . . . He says Murray is going better than ever and that he is looking forward to joining the Rangers and that fact is borne out by the scoring figures.

At present, his team is certainly going to see a lot of hockey locally, with a championship game billed every night from this evening until the end of the month. The paragraphs are in print, your agent will be somewhere in the city to handle the business for Lorne's team.

For the moment, the North Stars will be the ones to play the game, but the team has been invited to play in the final round of the playoffs.

Due to its closeness, the afternoon game will be the most exciting of the two games, and the big crowd will be on hand to witness the final rock was thrown.

Cunningham got away to an early lead, but Strickland at most of the distance forcing Strickland to come through on his two points.

The Red Jackets did not give up easily, however, and Strickland, who had a good opportunity to tie the game, was marked up a point to take the verdict.

Strickland started off with a single, but Cunningham had a goal and the final rock was thrown to lead by 3-1. The Royal crew got in for a single on the fifth but this was followed by a double from Cunningham holding a 4-2 margin on the half-way mark.

With the game all square at 5-5 but Cunningham once more grasped the leadership on the ninth when he took out Strickland's lead.

They went after the needed points, however, and, deadlocked at 7-7, the final rock was thrown to the last for the win.
